Why there's a need for an EcCoWell approach ?

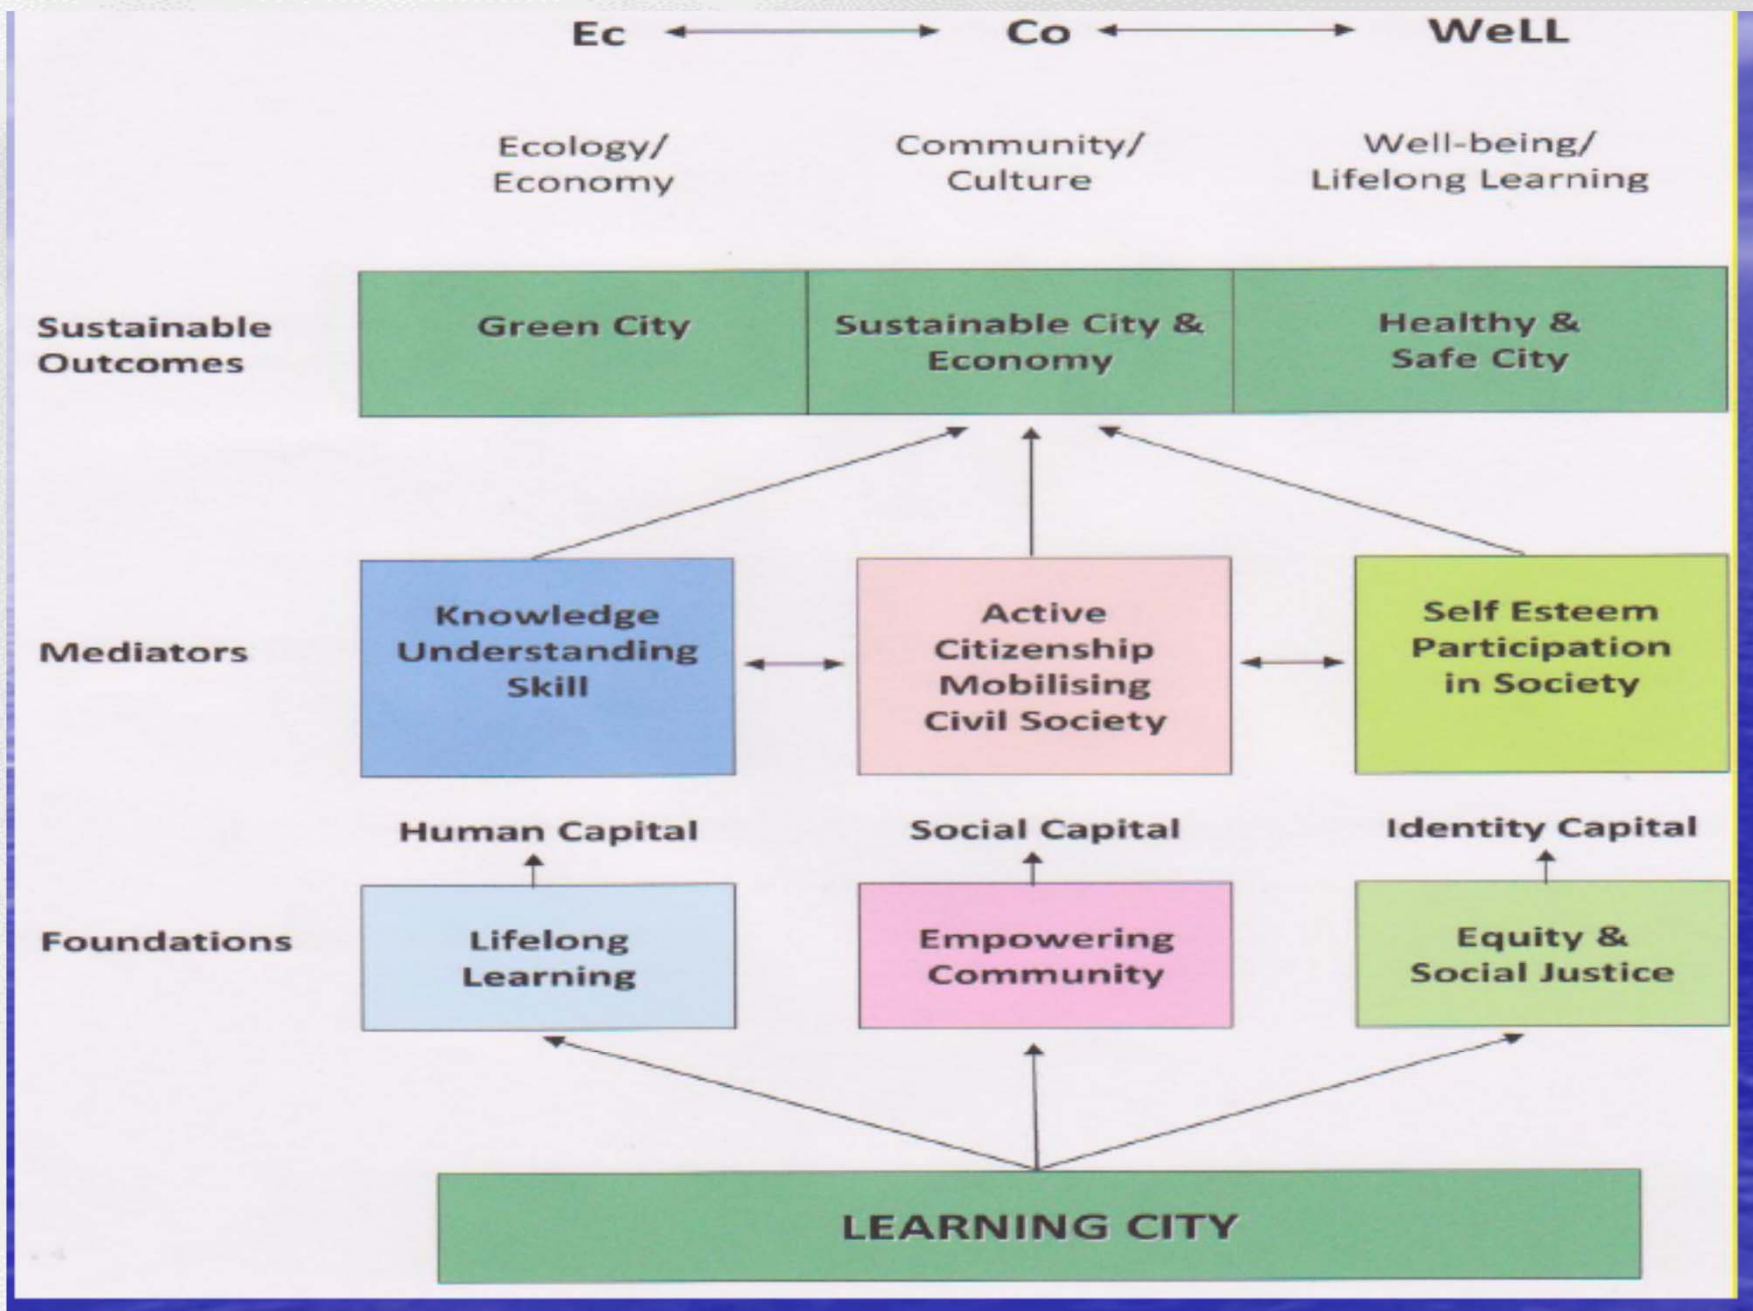

Communities are facing:

- Inequality
- Urbanisation
- Globalisation
- Sustainability issues
- Poverty

ELGIN EcCoWell

Dealing with issues in a slio-ed way doesn't work

Why there's a need for an EcCoWell approach

THE GOOD PYRAMID OF RELATIONSHIPS

- Mutual Benefits are achieved
- Benefits social, human and identity capital
- Fosters quality of life and well-being

ELGIN EcCoWell

Integrated life-long learning with the aim to establish an entrepreneurial eco-systems approach.

ELGIN EcCoWell

- The pillars of the entrepreneurial eco-systems approach will be across the landscape of ecology/conservation/agriculture, culture, community, holistic health (well-being), hospitality/eco-tourism, the blue-economy and the creative industries.

ELGIN EcCoWell

- Contributing to the local economic development (LED) objectives of Theewaterskloof (TWK).

ELGIN EcCoWell

- The TWK in their 2030 vision wants to establish themselves as a Centre of excellence in life-long learning and a learning community.
- A MOA was concluded with the University of Johannesburg to attain this aim.

ELGIN EcCoWell

- The EcCoWell learning approach embraces the principles contained in the policy landscape of Learning Communities, Healthy Communities, Green Communities, Creative Communities and Resilient Communities and will equip the community of TWK to become employable through “learning by doing” in response to the spectrum of challenges confronting them.

RECOGNITION OF PRIOR LEARNING

- A centre of excellence in RPL is envisaged

ELGIN EcCoWell

- Elgin entities to approve take over.
- UDEV (PTY) LTD board to approve take-over and enter into an agreement with the current board of directors/trustees that all assets be transferred to UDEV (PTY) LTD and that UDEV (PTY) LTD to take over the management of the current entities, the total debt and appoint new directors/trustees with a cap of R4,8 million;

ELGIN EcCoWell

- The management take-over will result in re-positioning of the entities to focus on establishing entrepreneurship ecosystems in health, agriculture, hospitality, tourism, the green economy; the space economy and the blue economy;
- The Community College concept will be accommodated within the ecosystem approach should it become a reality.
